

AMENDED BILL MUCH STRONGER

House Substitute for LaFollette Sixteen-Hour Measure Receives Unanimous Support.

SPECIAL RULE BROUGHT IN

REPUBLICANS TAKE CUE FROM DEMOCRATS.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The house committee on rules reported today a rule making of the highest privilege the house substituted for the LaFollette sixteen-hour railroad employees' bill. The bill as reported by the committee on rules was amended in several places, the most important of which is the elimination of the word "knowingly" wherever it occurs, which has the effect of relieving the railroad employees of liability for overwork. Another amendment strikes out the provisions in the section regulating employment, which reads:

"Unless immediately prior to said twenty-four-hour period such employee had at least eight hours of duty, and during said period of twenty-four hours following had at least six consecutive hours of duty."

The measure is also amended as to require "reasonable prudence," not "ordinary prudence."

Mr. Dulzelle believed the bill very much stronger than the LaFollette bill, for it now covered fast mail and excursion trains, which were left out of the LaFollette bill.

Democrats Agree.

Mr. Williams, the minority leader, congratulated the majority on the country upon the amendments made by the rule. He said the Republicans had seen a new light, and they were now enacting legislation which the Democrats had stood for from the beginning. Mr. Bartlett of Georgia said that the change that had come over the spirit of the Republicans was traceable only to the "big stick." He asserted that the changed condition had been due to the attitude of the Democratic members.

The amendments were adopted on a roll call by a vote of 279 ayes and no nays.

The speaker appointed Messrs. Hepburn, Sherman and Davis conferees upon the bill on the part of the majority. The house agreed to the conference report on the legislative, executive and judicial bill, and then resolved itself into the committee of the whole for the further consideration of the sundry civil bill, holding a night session in the hope of completing the measure. By a vote of 112 to 53, an amendment was adopted which provided for the continuance of work on a geological map of the United States.

INSURANCE RATES LOWER

Companies Have Come Down 25 Per Cent at Ely, Nev.—Miner Crushed to Death.

(Special to The Herald.)

Ely, Nev., Feb. 23.—Announcement was made today that insurance rates in the town of Ely have been reduced 25 per cent all along the line. This reduction is the result of improved conditions, which is being made possible by the waterworks, and also by the great increase in the fire insurance business in the town. Prior to the reduction, which was effected by the Herald last week, the rates ranged from 7 to 9 per cent. The new rate is about the same as that in force at Reno.

Steve Dotolick, a miner employed in the Star Pointer mine, was instantly killed while at work Tuesday morning. Dotolick was engaged in filling a mine bucket at the bottom of the shaft, and gave the engineer one bell, the signal to hoist the bucket. In attempting to correct the mistake, Dotolick reached for the bell-cord, but was caught by the rising bucket and was crushed between the bucket and the timbers. Dotolick was 40 years old and had been employed at the mine since Feb. 1. A coroner's jury held an inquest and reached the verdict that Dotolick's death was caused by his own carelessness.

STARTS ON LONG VOYAGE.

London, Feb. 23.—Wrinkled with age, but with enthusiasm, the general Booth of the Salvation Army left London this morning to board the steamer Minnetonka for Canada, whence he will proceed to Canada and the United States. He will spend two weeks in New York before proceeding to Canada to take the steamer Minnesota April 1. The Ottawa General Booth will be the guest of the governor general, Earl Grey.

LACKS THE AUTHORITY.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Secretary Taft granted a hearing today to Representative George Deneen and other Illinois men who are interested in the development of water power along the Des Moines River. The secretary announced that he had decided that he had no authority to issue any permit for the use of the waters of the river or for the construction of dams thereon.

ALL ON BOARD LOST.

Copenhagen, Feb. 23.—A dispatch received here today from Lemvig, Jutland, says that the three-masted Norwegian vessel which went ashore on the west coast of Jutland yesterday was the Tiensin, 120 tons, bound from Copenhagen to Christiania. She was totally lost and the crew, numbering eighteen men, were drowned.

INDICTED FOR MURDER.

Columbus, O., Feb. 23.—The Athens county grand jury today returned five indictments against former employees of the state insane asylum for alleged cruelties practiced against inmates of the institution. Three of the men are indicted for second degree murder in "tramping out" an inmate.

ADVERSE DECISION.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The chief of engineers has decided adversely upon the application of the sanitary board of Chicago for a permit to reverse the flow of the Calumet river by withdrawing water from Lake Michigan. His decision is final.

HEARS COLLEGE YETL ONCE MORE

President Roosevelt Visits Harvard and Is Given a Tremendous Welcome.

ATTENDS A CHRISTENING

PARTY WILL START FOR WASHINGTON TODAY.

Boston, Feb. 23.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt, who came to Massachusetts to pay a flying visit to their sons at Harvard and at Groton school, arrived here today. The president was driven to the home of Dr. W. S. Bigelow, a Harvard college classmate, and Mrs. Roosevelt, with her daughter, Miss Ethel, and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Lee, where they remained a short time before taking a train for Groton, where Kermit is at school. They planned to remain at Groton until joined by the president tomorrow at noon, and later the whole party will return to Boston preparatory to the return trip to Washington, leaving at 8 p. m.

At breakfast at Dr. Bigelow's home, the guests, besides the president, were Professor Arto Drates of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, President Briggs of Radcliffe college and Rev. Samuel C. Crothers. After a brief automobile ride to Cambridge, where his friend, Captain Guy Murchie, to attend the christening of the latter's infant son.

Sat for Portrait.

From the Murchie residence President Roosevelt was driven to the studio of a portrait painter, where he had a sitting. Afterward he visited a book store and from there back to Dr. Bigelow's home where, after a few moments, the president and Dr. Bigelow started in an automobile for Cambridge, where the chief executive was to spend the rest of the day as the guest of the undergraduates.

The trip to Cambridge was made by way of Brookline, in order that the president might stop a few minutes at the home of Mrs. Lee, the mother of the first Mrs. Roosevelt. With Dr. Bigelow he arrived at the Sphinx club a few minutes after 1 o'clock. Representative Longworth and Assistant Secretary of State Robert Bacon had arrived at the club house just previously. They were guests of the club with the president at luncheon.

Big Building Thronged.

Long before noon the students began to gather at the building where the president was to speak, and by 2 o'clock the building was thronged. All seats had been removed from the main hall as the arrangements were for everybody to stand in order that the largest number possible might be accommodated. The students whistled the time singing Harvard songs.

The president reached the building at 2:15 o'clock. The board of editors of the Harvard Advocate, with which President Roosevelt was connected during his college course, presented President Roosevelt with a bronze medal, and following the presentation the president descended to the main hall of the union. A tremendous Harvard cheer greeted him as he proceeded to the platform. Vice President J. D. White of the Harvard Union introduced President Roosevelt.

ARE DRINKING MEN INSANE?

IF YOU DRINK, READ AND CONSIDER

One of the most learned medical writers of the age has this to say of the drinking man who drinks either in large or small quantities:

"Two marked symptoms of insanity are prominent in drinking men. One is in the periodical drinker, who drinks to excess for a short time and then abstains. This is practical acute mania—an insane impulse—which resists all efforts of control; the other in the so-called moderate drinker, who drinks constantly in what he terms moderation, and because he is not incapacitated or changed in degree of comfort, believes that he is benefited. Careful studies of persons who drink in so-called small quantities indicate they are the most defective of all inebriates."

Nebraska, Iowa, and several other states have concluded that the above is correct and have passed laws which make it possible for any judge of record to commit a drinking man to an asylum.

WHEN the most prominent among our physicians and statesmen are beginning to realize that something must be done to rid men of this drink curse, when the drinking of liquor is at last recognized as the greatest evil threatening civilization; when employers and corporations and all others, have come to recognize the fact that not one particle of confidence can be placed in the actions or statements of a drinking man; when the defense in practically every murder trial is "insanity," while under the influence of liquor; when nine-tenths of all crime committed can be traced directly to alcohol; when statistics show that four-fifths of all the inmates of the insane asylums were drinking men, is it not about time for the man who drinks "in moderation" and "with judgment," or "periodically," or for the man who drinks in any degree, to sit up and take notice? Is it not about time that he was taking the matter of a cure under serious consideration?

But here is the trouble: Not one man in a hundred believes that he needs a cure. He will acknowledge—he knows—that alcohol injures every one but himself. He believes that it does him good to drink "a little," and at no time does he realize that it cannot quit—he believes that he can quit whenever he wants to, but does not note the fact that he never seems to want to.

The truth is that HE CANNOT QUIT, and to prove this statement all he has to do is to try to quit. If he does quit, he has disproved it; but if he takes one single drink trying to leave it alone, then if his brain is normal, he will realize that he needs treatment to cleanse the system of alcoholic poison AND THAT HE WILL DRINK LIQUOR UNTIL SUCH TREATMENT IS TAKEN.

Alcohol is an accumulative poison—one of those poisons which demands more of the same poison as relief—and there are several such poisons known to materia medica. That is why he takes liquor as "medicine" and why he feels comfortable and really benefited after taking a drink.

Business, friends, brains, physical health and money are all sure to go if this liquor drinking is persisted in. The sensible man, the man whose brain is the more nearly normal, is the man who realizes that all these statements are facts and takes treatment of his own volition. The future of a man who is yet capable of realizing this is assured. The treatment cures the liquor habit in any stage, phase or degree in just THREE DAYS' TIME, either here in Denver at the institute, or in the privacy of your own home by the Gatlin Home treatment. No painful and possibly dangerous hypodermic injections as by other methods of treatment and but FIVE DAYS' time against from 25 to 42 days' time by other methods.

The remedy is harmless—absolutely so—and could not injure a child. There is not a dangerous or deleterious drug enters into its composition. Not only so, but it is a sworn statement that it is harmless, but you have the new PURE FOOD AND DRUG LAW to emphasize the fact. This United States pure food and drug law is a good law and a real boon to the Gatlin Institute and the Gatlin treatment—it bars many other methods of treatment from using a home treatment, for all remedies offered the public containing dangerous and habit-forming drugs must have the fact that such drugs are incorporated in the medicine plainly printed on the package. The packages of Gatlin treatment are perfectly plain, which is a fact evidence that the remedy is harmless.

As to the cure, there is no question at all. The Gatlin Institute has been established about six years and there has never been a single failure to effect a cure, and but 5 per cent of all those treated have returned to drink, dating from date back six years. Last year, 1906, 128 persons were treated and cured by Institute and Home treatment combined, and but 21 of these returned to drink during the year—less than 2 per cent. No other method of treatment can show 20 per cent of permanent cures.

And no other institution treating the liquor habit does make the proposition to all patients, bar none, that the Gatlin Institute here makes: If at the end of the third day you are not perfectly cured and satisfied with the cure and the treatment at the Gatlin Institute, the full fee paid will be refunded at the end of the third day, together with railroad fare to and from Denver.

The Gatlin Institute has just issued at great expense a new book which shows just what this liquor habit is—puts light into the dark corners of the trouble and shows how to get out of it. The book is written in plain, understandable language that all may profit by reading it, and whether you drink or whether you do not drink, to an extent you are interested in this liquor drinking question and are cordially invited to write for a copy of the book. Sent postpaid, securely sealed to any one anywhere. Write today.

So-called "Weakness" in men is merely a symptom of chronic inflammation in the prostate gland, brought on by early dissipation or the improper treatment of some contracted disease. A complete and radical cure is, therefore, a question of restoring the prostate gland to its normal state, and this we accomplish promptly and completely without the use of internal remedies. Our treatment is a local one entirely. It is original and scientific, and has been proved absolutely effective by thousands of tests. We are convinced that by no other methods can full and permanent restoration of strength and vigor be accomplished.
